FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

EWA 1st Annual Career Day Provides Unique Opportunity

Denville, NY , USA — June 5, 2006 — Ed Williams Associates LLC (EWA), held its first Annual Career Day in mid-town New York, attended by over 250 participants. The day long event focused on Technology Workforce in New York Tri-State market and consisted of group workshops on Job Search Training; Networking for Jobs; Resume Assessment; Career Development & Transition; Leadership Development and Technology Certifications – Are they Worth the Expense? Each attendee was also extended an offer to schedule a two hour personal coaching session with one of the Human Capital Management Specialists at no charge. Some comments from attendees:

- "Best possible training available for job seeker at no financial cost, just commitment of time to enhance your career options."
- "This is an excellent workshop that can benefit women as well as men in career development aspects of their lives."
- "The program offered the perfect amount of practical knowledge before embarking on a job hunt and for this reason; it would be a crime not to support future EWA Career Days."
